

ELECTION MONITOR NO. 39

RECENT SUBMISSIONS OF POLITICAL PARTIES' MEMBERS LISTS TO UEC

The following parties have submitted the lists of their party members to the UEC:

1. Ethnic National Development Party (ENDP) - 30 August 2010 (Date Submitted)<sup>1</sup>
2. Inn National Development Party - 27 August 2010 (Date Submitted)<sup>2</sup>
3. Phalon-Sawaw Democratic Party - 1 September 2010(Date Submitted)<sup>3</sup>

To date, of the 42 parties that have been granted permission to register as political parties, 33 have submitted their party members lists to the UEC within the prescribed period.

PARTIES CONSULT TO AVOID OVERLAP

Leaders of the National Democratic Force (NDF), Democratic Party (Myanmar) and Union Democratic Party (UDP) have said by cooperating they are trying to make the most of their limited time and money. "We have not formed an alliance. We're just consulting to avoid needless confrontation between parties that share a common belief in democracy and to avoid spreading the votes around amongst each other and making each other too weak to be elected," said U Khin Maung Swe, one of the founders of the NDF.<sup>4</sup>

NDF URGES CITIZENS TO VOTE

At the opening ceremony of its party offices on 22 August in North Okkalapa, Rangoon Division, NDF party Vice-Chairman Dr. Than Win urged those present to cast their votes boldly and instigate change. He said the international community was also gradually recognising the important role the NDF was playing, but admitted the party faced an uphill battle to be successful. The party office opening followed similar ceremonies in Mandalay, Gangaw in Magway and Paletwa in Chin State earlier this month. Party founder U Khin Maung Swe said at the ceremony that opening branch offices had taken a back seat to other activities in recent weeks, such as registering candidates before the 30 August deadline. He said the party would soon open an office in Labutta Township, Ayeyarwady Division. "Because the National Democratic Force has only been running for a short period of time, we have other things to do and can't afford to open many offices. The NDF will contest about 100 constituencies across the country, including 20 in Yangon Region."<sup>5</sup>

KAYIN PARTY SEEKS END TO CONFLICT

Leaders of a Kayin State-based political party say they hope participation in the 7 November election will help bring about an end to decades of ethnic conflict. U Khin Maung Myint, Chairman of the Phalon-Sawaw Democratic Party, said that the party would focus on bringing "peace and prosperity" to Kayin State. "We don't want war, we only want peace," he added. "I think everyone in Kayin State is hoping for peace" as a result of the election." Ethnic conflict has ravaged the region since Kayin soldiers took up arms up against the government shortly after independence in 1948. The Karen National Liberation Army, the armed wing of the Karen National Union, has been one of the few ethnic armies to resist signing a ceasefire agreement with the government. "A lot of what happens in the future will depend on the new government. An important factor will be ensuring stability during the election period," according to U Khin Maung Myint. "Under the law we need to form a party if we are to practise politics for the Kayin people. We like this approach, rather than armed conflict, to solving problems." He said most of the Phalon-Sawaw Democratic Party's founding members have a background in non-government organisations and civil society groups and range from 20 to 60 years of age. The Phalon-Sawaw Democratic Party will contest constituencies in all seven townships of Kayin State, as well as Kyaikmayaw in neighbouring Mon State, and expects to field more than 30 candidates altogether.<sup>6</sup>

ANALYSIS

The final date for submission for the lists of the names candidates for the constituencies for the respective Hluttaws set for 30 August has passed. A total of 33 parties met the deadline. There has been no official announcement about independent candidates.

The parties will now have to move into the second phase of having their candidates scrutinized between the 6 and 10 September as prescribed by Notification No. 90/2010 on 13 August 2010. The UEC gave the parties a very short time-frame in which to submit candidates (15-30 August). Many parties that failed to meet the deadline are now faced with the prospect of being eliminated from the electoral process. This will give the junta-backed Union Solidarity and Development Party (USDP) a better advantage in many areas.

The scrutinizing of candidates will bring more casualties as would-be candidates, especially from opposition parties, are eliminated.

The renewed tension mounting in the border regions<sup>11</sup> coupled with the growing dissatisfaction against the regime's handling of the election process do not bode well for a smooth election.
